

Important Livestock Meeting for August 17.

A very important conference of farmers who produce cattle, sheep or hogs, is to be held at the College of Agriculture at Lexington on Saturday, August 17th at the call of Dean Thomas P. Cooper, for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to production under war conditions.

Every farmer in Kentucky is interested just now in the matter of how many hogs and steers to feed this fall and winter, what his patriotic duty is in this matter and what profits he may expect.

Mr. C. E. Yancey, specialist in the United States Food Administration, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Yancey is one of the large producers of meat animals in Missouri and was chosen to his responsible position in Washington on account of his wide and successful experience as a feeder.

Other men who attended the recent meeting of the Federated Meat Producers' Association in Chicago and who have given the problem of meat production a great deal of study will take part in the discussion.

The purpose of this organization is to make a study of the producers' problem and to aid the Administration in formulating such regulations as will be just and fair to both producers and consumers.

Every farmer and stockman in Kentucky is invited and urged to be present. The meeting will be called at eleven o'clock at the University Chapel. If the weather is fair the meeting will be held on the lawn at the Experiment Station Farm.

MINE SANK SAN DIEGO, GERMAN SAILORS SAY.

A Canadian Port, Aug. 4.—The United States cruiser San Diego was sunk off Fire Island last month by a mine laid by the German submarine U-56, which captured and burned the Canadian schooner Dornfontein in the Bay of Fundy last Friday, according to statements made by members of the crew of the submarine.

The Captain and crew of the Dornfontein arrived here last night, after having been held on the U-boat for five hours and then ordered to take to their lifeboats and make for the nearest point of land. Upon their arrival they were questioned by the naval authorities.

They said that members of the U-boat crew told them there were four submarines operating off the Atlantic Coast, but they expected more to arrive soon. Naval officers here were inclined to discredit this.

The submarine, according to the Dornfontein's crew, was more than 200 feet long and mounted two guns, said by the Germans to have a calibre of 5.9. She carried a crew of at least seventy.

The crew of the Dornfontein may have been mistaken in the identity of the German submarine which sank their schooner, for a dispatch from Santander, Spain, dated Aug. 1, stated that the U 56, "which arrived here under its own power," was suspected of being in communication with other U boats at sea.

APPLES COOK ON TREES WITH MERCURY AT 120.

Winchester, Va., Aug. 8.—Apples cooking on the trees in the great orchard region of northern Virginia is one of the freaks of nature being caused by the hot spell. State Fuel Administrator Byrd is displaying fruit from his orchard, where the thermometer registered 120 degrees in the sun, that has been thoroughly sizzled, if it actually has not been baked and other growers say the fruits are being threatened with ruin.

It is alleged in the warrant that Warden urged people at Centertown not to buy war savings stamps, telling them, it is said, that they "would never get their money back." Warden pleaded not guilty, but after hearing the evidence of witnesses Commissioner Dean deemed it sufficient to hold the man over to the federal grand jury.

Warden was arrested at his home in Centertown Wednesday night and brought to Owensboro on Thursday morning.—Owensboro Messenger.

CAPITOL AVENUE MERCHANT RELATES REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE.

Gains Thirty Pounds In Very Short Time— Gives VI-TO-NA Credit.

A Young Man Again, He Says.

"If a fellow ever went downhill, I am that man," said Mr. W. R. Josey, a merchant of 627 Capitol Avenue, Atlanta, Ga.

"Indigestion, constipation, nervousness—Stomach all out of order, sleepless nights, no appetite. All these troubles were had enough but when kidney trouble developed, and I got so bad off until I could not sleep down; continued pain in my back; blood all thin and anemic. I felt that I had just about reached the limit. I couldn't half way attend to my business.

"One day, a friend of mine, Mr. Henry, told me about VI-TO-NA and advised me to try it. I took his advice, and I want to say right here, that that was the best move I ever made in my life. I began to feel better right away. Soon I could eat all that I wanted, and anything that I wanted, and nothing disagreed with me.

"This wonderful remedy, VI-TO-NA, put right down after that kidney trouble and I was very soon rid of that. Good, rich blood began to flow through my veins once more. My weight came back by leaps and bounds, and the old worn out, fatigued feeling is a thing of the past. Now I am telling everybody whom I meet that I am a YOUNG MAN AGAIN.

"You know," said Mr. Josey, "I am a carpenter as well as a merchant, and VI-TO-NA put me in such fine shape that during the dull months last summer I put in twelve or fourteen of the hottest weeks working at Camp Gordon, building houses. I saw a good many younger fellows drop out from heat, but I stood it fine and dandy. Didn't lose a day.

"VI-TO-NA did it. It's the greatest medicine on earth."

VI-TO-NA is on sale in Rockport, Ky., exclusively by Jas. Browning, and in McHenry by S. J. Tichenor.

COUNTY AGENTS, COOPERATING, HELP SOLVE LOCAL PROBLEMS.

Cooperation between the various county agents within a State is becoming more and more common, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. In many States these cooperative efforts clear through a State leader, but in others they are the result of voluntary efforts on the part of the individual agents themselves.

A recent instance of the latter type is shown in the following letter recently sent to several other agents in Nebraska by E. H. Davis, county agent at Greeley:

"I learned from outside reports that it is getting pretty dry in your county and that the pastures are getting short. Don't let any one ship young stock on account of shortage of pasture. Wheeler County has pasture that is going to waste, since it has had lots of rain the whole season through, and the grass is fine. The farmers in Wheeler County will be glad to have stock to utilize the grass. If I can be of any service to you along this line, write me."

Cooperation of this sort is meeting a very serious live-stock situation which threatens certain parts of the State because of drought.

RECOVERY OF WOUNDED ED SOLDIERS.

Washington.—Of the American soldiers wounded in the Marne-Aisne offensive probably less than one in twenty will die from their wounds, more than four-fifths will be returned to service and only 14 per cent will be discharged for disability, according to a statement of the Chief of Staff Monday, based upon the findings of the four years of war.

The staff statement follows: "In connection with the casualties among the American expeditionary forces in the Marne-Aisne offensive it should be stated upon the basis of the officially attested experience of our associates during four years of this war that of wounded soldiers sent to hospitals for treatment fewer than one in twenty die. Of all the soldiers sent to the hospital only 45 in every 1,000 die. These include those who die of disease, as well as those who die of wounds.

"Of all soldiers wounded in action more than four fifths return to service, many of them in less than two for physical disability only 14.5 per cent. It is necessary to discharge

"These figures are based on an average of both British and French official figures, including both officers and men. The two are averaged together. Since American troops are fighting with both the French and the British under conditions which vary, they show: Returned to service, 81 per cent, or $10 per 1,000; discharged from service because of physical disability or other causes, 14.5 per cent, or 145 per 1,000; died from wounds, 4.5 per cent, or 45 per 1,000."

WAR NURSES IN FRANCE COMMENDED FOR BRAVERY.

The following commendation of American Red Cross nurses and nurses' aids and other nurses for bravery during the air raids on B— is taken from a report from Julia C. Stinson, Chief Nurse, American Red Cross in France:

"Maj. Moorehead, commanding officer of hospital No.—said he could not speak too highly of the efficiency of the nurses.

He made special mention of their bravery at the time of air raids, especially the excellent work of Miss Turnbull, the nurse in charge.

"Special praise should be given also," he says, "to Miss Elmyra Bears of Cambridge, (Mass.)—Waltham Nurses' Training School Waltham (Mass.)—who gave ether with the greatest calm, all during the night of May 29th, when bombs were crackling all around the hospital."

He spoke particularly, too, of the attention to duty and the bravery of Miss Louise Dildine of Columbus (O.)—Lawrence Hospital—Miss Constance Cooke, of Berkeley (Cal.)—Children's Hospital & Alexander Macdonald Hospital, San Francisco—nurses; and Miss Stephens, Miss Elmer, nurse aids, all of whom were on duty at this hospital that harrowing night.

"Maj. Murphy reported bravery on the part of Miss Natalie Scott, a nurse's aid, on the night when B— was so horribly raided. One wing of the hospital was struck and several buildings adjacent completely demolished.

"Almost all the windows were shattered.

"In an annex, nearby, were several American patients who had been part of Miss Scott's responsibility. Immediately after the bombs fell and destroyed the intervening houses, Miss Scott in the pitchy darkness, led over the pile of bricks and broken timbers and made her way into the annex to see how her patients were, and to reassure them. A few days later, during another raid, Miss Scott, although completely worn out, remained day and night at the side of a dying American patient."

AGER MAN HELD ON MURDER CHARGE.

Bowling Green, Ky., Aug. 7.—A. Garman, eighty years old, killed Ed. Johnson, thirty-five his tenant, at 8 o'clock this morning, at his home on Garman's farm near Sunnyside, six miles northeast of this city, with a rifle and then walked away a few steps and returned, shooting him two or three times more with a pistol.

Garman then barricaded himself in his barn when Sheriff Tucker, Deputy Sheriff Myers, Jailer Claypool, Deputy Jailer Howell, Patrolman Jenkins, Constable Mitchell, Chief of Police Porter, City Judge Hines, County Attorney Milliken, and a number of citizens tried to arrest him. All were armed with rifles and pistols.

Garman refused to surrender and threatened the officers' lives.

William Henry Hendricks, a rural mail carrier, who was in the army for three years, grappled with Garman, who pulled a revolver and fired point blank at Hendricks, who was wounded in the wrist. In the scuffle Garman was wounded twice in the leg with his own gun before Hendricks overpowered him.

The old man was brought to jail here under heavy guard and a charge of murder placed against him.

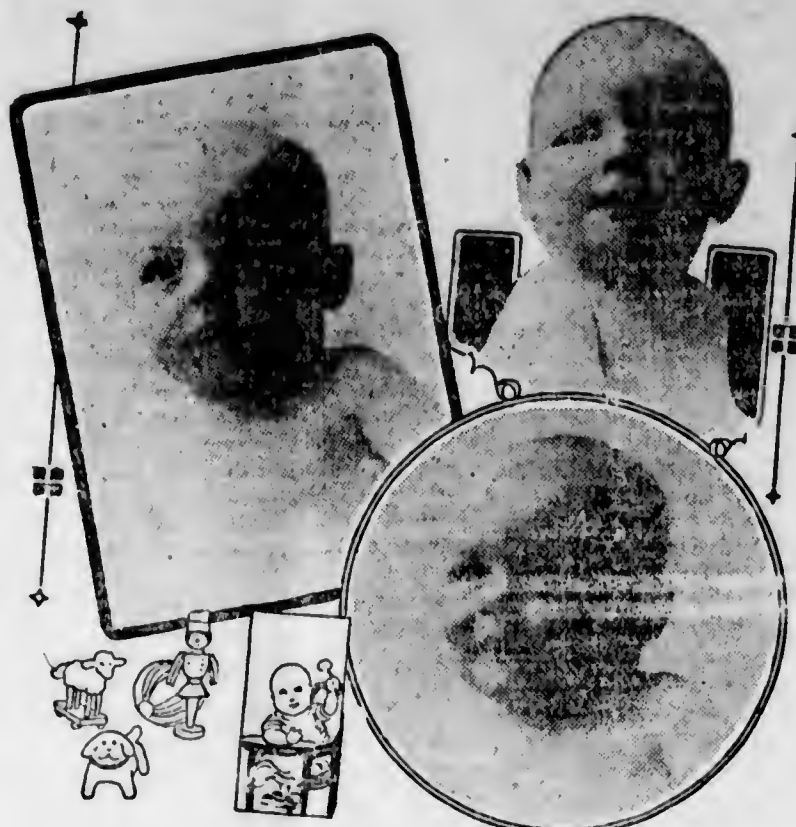

10,000 ALSACE-LORRAINE MUTINIED LAST MAY.

London, Aug. 7.—A "high official" telegraphs the Paris correspondent of the Daily Express, "has allowed me to see captured documents showing that 10,000 natives of Alsace-Lorraine mutinied at Beverloo (Belgium) last May, after returning from the eastern front. Subsequently an order was issued not to place men from these districts in the front lines because of the many desertions. They were then employed in agricultural work."

TRAIN HITS AUTO.

Leitchfield, Ky.—Miss Emma Stevenson, of this place, was killed; Mr. Charles Shipley, also of this city, was fatally wounded, and Mr. Frank Pringle, an oil operator of Bradford, Pa., was painfully wounded when the automobile in which they were riding was struck at the Illinois Central crossing here by a freight train.

HUNDREDS OF TOTS LISTED FOR BABY PAGEANT AT STATE FAIR

There is no feature of the Kentucky State Fair in which spectators exhibit a deeper interest than the charming and spectacular "Baby Pageant," which finds the Babies' Health Contest on Friday afternoon of Fair week. The pageant each year is entirely different in type and is kept as a surprise to State Fair visitors until the hour announced for its presentation on Friday. They are designed to exhibit spectacularly the gifts and graces of the three hundred or more winsome entrants in the Baby Contest and provide a delightful finale to a period which is of intense seriousness and importance to both mothers and babies, for it is in the Babies' Health Contest, instituted at the Kentucky State Fair in 1913, that babies between twelve and thirty-six months receive an examination and scoring of vast importance to the future physical welfare of the child. The babies are classed and scored on the same scientific basis that carefully-bred stock is handled, and they are gone over from head to foot by experts in eye, ear, throat, lung, brain and general-practice lines in a manner which leaves nothing undiscovered in regard to the little one's physical condition, the points needing correction or the fact brought forth that baby is devoid of weakness or blemish. To mothers unacquainted with scientific methods of baby care and to those living in rural districts where such information is difficult and oftentimes impossible to obtain the Babies' Health Contests are valuable beyond measure, as is proved by the fact that in the city of Chicago statistics show that 11 per cent of the children die, while those looked after scientifically by the Infant Welfare Society lose only 3 1/2 per cent. This demonstrates beyond argument that the Babies' Health Contests are educative along lines invaluable to the coming generation, and that all mothers should be provided with the knowledge of how to care for her baby, how to feed it, how to let it sleep, how to dress it, and how to remedy defects.

The Babies' Health Contest this year is under the supervision of Mrs. John L. Woodbury, who has handled it since its original introduction at the Kentucky State Fair in 1913. The city babies who enter the contest are examined throughout the week prior to the opening of the Fair, September 9, in Kentucky State Fair Headquarters, in the Republic Building, and the babies from the rural districts are examined during Fair week in the Babies' Health Contest Building on the grounds. It is after the marking, scoring and tabulating is over that the babies are gathered for the pageant, which displays the charming tots to delightful advantage.

FROM FRANCE.

Thenay, France, near St. Aignan, July, 9th.

Dear Mother:

I will drop you a few lines to let you know I am O. K. and hope you are the same. I would like very much to see you all but conditions prevent it, so we will have to be patient and in the end, if God is willing, everything will come out all right, and I will come home to mother, father, sisters and my darling little wife, Renay. Tell everybody I said hello and would love to see them. I am telling you one thing which you may not know—old Kentucky is always represented in everything and will be as long as there is a state by that name. Answer soon.

LAST WORDS OF UNHAPPY NICHOLAS.

Amsterdam, August 7.—What seemed to have been the last words of Nicholas Romanoff, former Russian Emperor, were:

"Spare wife and my innocent, unhappy children. May my blood preserve Russia from ruin."

These words were called out by the former Emperor just before he was shot by the firing squad.

Carrollton County Farmer Praises Vin Hepatica as Fine Nerve and Stomach Tonic.

Uses It For His Whole Family For Stomach and Nerves.

Mr. A. T. Tandy, farmer, Highland Avenue, Carrollton, Ky., writes under date of February 2, that after suffering from nervousness and stomach trouble, he has found Vin Hepatica a fine medicine for such purposes.

"I have used several bottles of Vin Hepatica in my family the last three months," says Mr. Tandy, "and it is a fine medicine for nervousness and stomach trouble."

That is just the way thousands of others are talking about this famous Vin Hepatica, a prescription of eight of the finest all-vegetable stomach and nerve remedies and tonics. It goes at once to the seat of the trouble, stops indigestion, arrests catarrhal conditions, acts on the liver, kidney, stomach, and bowels, enriches the blood, and tones up the entire system.

If you are nervous, have stomach, liver, or kidney trouble, or are in a weak and run-down condition, and need a fine tonic, come in and get a bottle of this great Vin Hepatica prescription, and take it on our recommendation.

Press Kibball did not run fast enough to keep up with the party.

If we were going on color schemes, we would suggest the woodpecker as our national bird. He has a snappy suit of red, white and blue.

When a soldier leaves a cantonment on a special train bound for somewhere he can well sing, "I don't know where I'm going, but I'm on my way."

Some of the Germans who started to Paris four years ago are thinking that they are not making schedule time. A great many more who started are not thinking at all.

Some folks deny poets the laurels of prophets, but we cannot help thinking that old "Shakespeare" had Germany in mind when he wrote that immortal squib, "Hell is empty and all the devils are here!"

Something always spoils our editorials. We wrote one on the cool summer last week and it turned hot as blue-blazes immediately. We are going to write one on the dry summer this week and maybe we can have some rain.

With Tennessee on the South, Indiana on the North and West, Virginia on the east, all bone-dry, those of the thirsty caravan will soon be pitching their tents in old Kentucky, the only oasis in a great American desert.

Last winter the astrologers predicted a long dry summer. We laughed at our sleeves at their prognostications then, but now we're beginning to believe they either knew or are pretty successful guessers. Was it foreknowledge or coincidence?

Capt. Lucas Guest, of the British Army, made us a call while in town last week and gave us the facts about his life that are given in an article in this issue. Finding that we were of English strain, the Captain gladly accepted us as an interview. He is the typical British soldier, a Tommy of the kind of which Kipling sings, and his narratives of his wanderings over the world were very interesting. His quaint accent and his pleasing personality add an interest to his stories, and we trust he may some time visit our town again.

By a recent transaction, Judge Bligham bought a majority of stock, making him virtually proprietor and publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Times. We notice too, with pleasure, that Mr. Henry Waterson is to remain as emeritus editor. His name and the name of The Courier-Journal are one and inseparable. We cannot think of one without the other. During all these years, through stormy days and calm, his master hand has guided this paper of his heart through the shoals and shallows of misfortune, bringing it up from an obscure journal to one of the most powerful organs in the world. Marse Henry has his ideas and opinions and he is not afraid to declare them. Though we may differ with him ever so much, we cannot help but admire his unique style, his virile expressions, and most of all his stalwart personality. He is growing old and infirm and can no longer bear the arduous duties of an active journalist, but we wish him many a long day of hearty old age, and power to live until he knows that the Germans, whom he so despises and of whose designs he so faithfully warned us, are driven far beyond the Rhine.

The new draft-law, if it goes into effect, will forever forestall and eliminate the boasts of the hypocritical Hun that we have not sufficient manpower to carry on the war. In June, 1917, ten million men stepped forward and registered their willingness to stand or fall with Old Glory; thousands of them are overseas, even now facing the Huns of Germany, who had declared we could never conscript the Americans. A year went by and the nation called on the young men who had just reached twenty-one to come to the post of duty. A million came forward, most of whom will be in active training in a few months. And now the exigencies of the nation demand that every man between 18 and 45—as the bill now reads—become liable to service. This will bring sixteen million more into play. Thus approximately twenty-seven million men will be either directly engaged with the Germans or reservists, ready at a moment's call. How can the Germans hope to win? If we knew the Central Powers, at a stroke of the Emperor's pen, could summon twenty-seven million men, would it not dampen our ardor and lower our morale, fresh and strong even as we are? Then what must it be to Germany, beaten to a stand-still by the enemies she already has, weary and in debt beyond hope of possible redemption? Twenty-seven million and fifty million if it becomes necessary. It is enough to take away the breath of the world. Add to that the unlimited resources of America and we can begin to see why it is the German high command's safest policy to lie to the German people.

CAPTAIN E. LUCAS GUEST.

Captain E. Lucas Guest, though still a young man, joined the British Army at the outbreak of the South African War, in 1902, and served until the cessation of hostilities in 1902, as a scout. He has been connected with the army ever since then, either actively, or on the reserve.

During the South African War, he was twice mentioned in dispatches, commissioned as an officer on the field, and awarded the King and Queen's African Medals, with five bars. During that war, he was captured by the enemy, court-martialed and sentenced to be shot, but succeeded in escaping from the enemy before they were able to carry out the death sentence.

At the beginning of the present war, he was practicing law in Rhodesia, South Africa, but immediately rejoined the forces and served through the South African Rebellion and the German South West African Campaign. At the conclusion of the latter campaign, he was sent to the Western Front, where he served until the end of last year, when he was wounded and sent to the hospital. He left the hospital to come to America.

This officer has been lecturing to the Coal Miners in West Virginia with considerable success. As a result of his lectures an appreciable increase in the production of coal has resulted. He is a forcible, but tactful speaker, and should be able to interest his audiences in this State.

He gives some interesting figures, showing Great Britain's contribution to the Allies success. These staggering figures tell an eloquent story of the sacrifice of his game little country.

Among other things, he states that the British Empire has contributed 7,500,000 soldiers, of which 500,000 have made the supreme sacrifice and 2,000,000 wounded, or missing. In one month in 1917 27,000 men of the British Army were killed.

He states that if the Kaiser has not succeeded in doing anything else, he has helped to unite America and England by ties which will stand the test of time.

He pays an eloquent tribute to the soldiers of America, as well as those of the other Allies, and believes that America is the predominating factor in the war, and that our soldiers are today the finest fighting material in the world.

Captain Guest also gives some interesting figures, showing the number of women in the British Isles, who have responded to the call, and the sacrifice they are making in the cause of Freedom.

He gives vivid description of air raids in London, and in France, life in the trenches during normal times, also during an advance or drive, interjected with very amusing stories from the trenches. He has a keen sense of humor, and gives the direct lie to the statement that his race is lacking in that sense.

He points out the danger of being too optimistic of immediate results, and says with regard to the duration of the war, that one must look forward to an ever receding period of two years and that peace will come as a surprise. He is most emphatic as to the ultimate result of the war.

He gave the miners a new view point, and made it indisputably clear, that those who did not work full time, gave the remainder of their time to Germany, and that such men, though perhaps not German in sympathy, are German in effect. He brings a message from the soldiers to the workmen, saying that they, the soldiers, are prepared to make all sacrifices, even the supreme one, and expect the civilian population to do their share. Captain Guest will do much towards cementing the friendly relations already existing between our people and the people of the "Mother Country."

GREAT WAR CONFERENCE.

The War Conference which was held here last Thursday was in every way a success, and by far the greatest patriotic gathering ever brought together in Hartford.

Hundreds of people were present from every part of the county and a great day was spent in patriotic devotion to our flag and the principles for which we are fighting.

In the afternoon inspiring addresses were made by W. D. Cochran, of Maysville, Lieutenant Governor Black, and by Capt. E. Lucas Guest. Capt. Guest brought a message from the trenches which brought the war nearer home to us and awoke in us a warmer sympathy for our Allies who have so patiently given their blood and treasure for the cause we advocate.

After the speaking, a meeting of the farmers was held and interesting addresses were made, including one by Mr. F. E. Merrihan, dealing with the vital problems which confront the farmers. Much good resulted from this meeting, both in practical advice and in the inspiration which the farmers received. The great crowd that gathered that day went home with a deeper patriotism and a firmer determination to push the war to a victorious conclusion.

10,000 ENGAGE IN CLUB WORK

Boys and girls in Kentucky to the number of 10,000 are engaged in Club Work, which includes pig, corn, calf, and poultry raising, added to which is canning for the girls. Exhibits of the war time industry of these youngsters who, in keeping with the million or more children throughout the country devoting themselves to service, will be made at the Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville the week of September 9-14. Over $1,000 has been offered in prizes and a number of special premiums listed, among the most interesting of which is Governor Stanley's proffer of three pure-bred Tamworth pigs to the winner of the pig club work for 1913. They will be on exhibition at the Fair in an ornately decorated booth and will be hotly contested for.

The total aggregate of premium money listed in the catalogue for the 1913 Kentucky State Fair to be held in Louisville the week of September 9-14, is $78,000. It has been decided by the Kentucky State Fair management to pay all prize moneys of $5 and less in Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps, and those receiving premiums in amounts over $5 will receive 25% of the sums in War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps. By reason of this plan it is estimated that approximately $25,000 of the premium awards for the Kentucky State Fair of 1913 will be paid in War Savings and Thrift Stamps, and the war budget of the Government be increased accordingly.

ENLIST THEN STUDY IS PLAN.

The plan prepared by the War Department to offer to able bodied college students over the age of eighteen an opportunity to enlist in the military forces of the United States and to obtain training in the colleges which will prepare them for the more exacting forms of military service, is taking on force in Kentucky.

The purpose of the plan is to provide for the very important needs of the army for highly trained men as officers, engineers, chemists, doctors and administrators. If the need arises for the services of these men in the fighting line, the terms of their enlistment are such that they can be called by the President on a day's notice, but it will be the policy of the government to keep them in training until their draft age is reached.

By this plan, it can be put into effective execution, the supply of trained men will not be depleted and the work of the government in prosecuting the war, and in the work which will follow, will be greatly facilitated. Indeed, without some such plan there is grave danger that the number of student in the colleges will be greatly reduced and that the country will greatly suffer, not only during the war, but in years to come.

DISTRUST IS RIFE

IN COE'S RANKS.

London.—Renter's correspondent at British headquarters in France, in a telegram dated Monday says:

"The ebbing of the German morale resulting from recent events has been noticeably hastened by the great influx of American troops. In this particular regard the German high command is paying the penalty of concealment and misrepresentation."

"The appearance in the battle line of powerful American forces and the striking proof of their splendid fighting qualities give the lie direct to all German official bombast, which no explaining can minimize. Moreover, it proves the futility of all the talk about the success of the German submarine warfare."

"Distrust is rife in the enemy ranks and under such conditions the tendency is to exaggerate their misfortunes. They discredit Ludendorff's statements and seem gloomily conscious that Germany is suffering defeat and that the truth is being concealed from them."

MILLION MEN TO BE KEPT IN TRAINING.

Kansas City, Mo., August 7.—Passing through Kansas City Monday en route to Leavenworth, Kan., Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, issued a statement in which he said it was the purpose of the War Department to keep at least 1,000,000 men training in camps in the United States as long as the war shall last.

He placed the number of men now training in the United States at 1,500,000.

With reference to his recommendations for extension of the draft age, Secretary Baker said it was not the intention of the War Department to invade the deferred classifications, adding that with the extension of the draft age Class I will provide all the men necessary.

Discussing the battle of the Marne-Aisne sector, Mr. Baker warned against over optimism.

"We are only beginning," he said.

DEAD PILED HIGH.

London, August 7.—Describing the attack of the Fourth Guard Division on the Americans, who are now organizing their line after their victory, Renter's correspondent with the American army, telegraphing the other day, says the Americans were at a considerable disadvantage in number in this fighting.

"There was no holding by the crack, fresh picked division of Guards as it came down the hill," he continues.

"The Americans had to give ground to weight of numbers and fought back step by step through Sergy down to the Ourcq. They were very far from done with, however, and before the Germans realized it they had been forced to yield ground and were pushed clear through the village."

"That was the beginning of a desperate struggle, which continued all day. Each side in turn had possession of the village until the evening, when the Americans, with a final fury of determination, swept the Germans from the ruins and then up the hill, broke another counterattack of the German Guards and remained victorious on a field where the enemy's dead actually lay in heaps."

The piles of German dead were all the more noticeable, the correspondent adds, since the Guards came into the fight with complete brand-new equipment, as if they had turned out for parade before the Emperor.

COWARDICE IS VOTED

WORST OF ALL SINS.

Washington, Aug. 4.—Raymond Fosdick, Chairman of the commission on Training Camp Activities, who has just come back from France brings this story with him:

At a Y. M. C. A. hut, in a rest billet, the Secretary was showing a crowded house, composed of several hundred doughboys, the usual run of movies, interspersed with talks and songs. The thought came to the hutmen that perhaps he could learn from his patrons instead of teaching them. So, on the impulse, which proved an inspiration, he passed out slips containing the question as to what the men regarded as the worst three sins.

As the returns came in the Y. M. C. A. man found himself wondering what the answers would be. Naturally he expected that early religious training would make the position of murder rather prominent in the list. But it wasn't. Instead, there was unanimity as to the first and worst sin. That was put down as cowardice. The second—and here the vote fell just short of being unanimous—was selfishness. The third highest vote was cast for biggishness, with scattering support for thievery, lying and other vices.

FIRST HOG ISLAND

LAUNCHING TO-DAY.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The first ship fabricated at the Hog Island yard will be launched to-morrow in the presence of President Wilson and other Government officials. The vessel, one of 110 identical 7,500 ton, 11½ knot cargo carriers to be built at the biggest shipyard in the world, will be christened the Quilstoneck by Mrs. Wilson, that having been the name by which the Indians knew Hog Island.

The President and Mrs. Wilson will make the trip in a special train which will be run directly to the launching platform. He does not plan making a speech, and immediately after the ship takes the water the party will return to the capital.

NOTIFY THE KAISER HE

WILL BE HANGED.

Germany has a long-range gun which is able to drop shells in Paris. No military advantage comes from this gun. It kills women and children alike. Its shells are not directed to Paris fortifications or ammunition dumps. The guns after being aimed in the direction of Paris let go.

The chiefs of the allied nation should notify the kaiser that if he persists in bombarding unfortified towns and in killing innocent women and children that he and his family will be held personally responsible, and that when the war is over his sons will be hanged before his eyes and that he will then be hanged before his women's eyes.

When Emperor William permits hospital ships to be sunk, unfortified cities to be bombarded and field hospitals to be bombed, he thereby makes of himself a murderer more cowardly and meaner than Geronimo or London Jack the Ripper. Those wretches knew no better, but the protagonist of German kultur does know better, therefore his responsibility is absolute.

to the kaiser through neutral diplomats that unless he stops bombarding unfortified cities, hospital ships and bombing field hospitals that he will be hanged. He will not be shot as a soldier is shot, but will be executed as a degenerate felon.—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

SEES LONG WAR.

Petersburg.—Cletis Canary, a young lad living ten miles east of Petersburg, the son of Louis G. Canary, a well known farmer, went into a deep sleep Saturday and did not awaken for eighteen hours. The family feared he would not awaken and summoned a doctor.

When the child awakened he told his parents that he had been on a trip to heaven, and that he had seen his grandparents and great-grandparents and talked with all of them. His great grandparents were dead before the child was born, but he called their names familiarly, and told of his conversation with them. He also told his parents that a certain son of one of their neighbors would not be taken and yesterday notice came that the boy had been rejected by the medical board as unfit for service.

The lad claimed he talked to Jesus and was told that they were not ready for him yet in heaven, and that he would have to come back to earth again. The child also asserted that he was told that the great war would not end until 1923.

He told everything in a straightforward way, and made no mistakes in reference to the names of the people he had talked with. The entire neighborhood is excited by the revelations made by him.

The Maxwell!

Why Do You See So Many of These Cars in Ohio County--- Why Do They Prefer Them?

That's easy—they wanted everything that the ingenuity of man has invented---that science could develop, and an American accustomed to the best, could desire. They wanted comfort to the point of luxury in riding qualities.

"Claims are alright, but only profits count"—that is THE MAXWELL slogan. We have proven in official tests, and before the whole world, the most elusive but most important qualities—reliability and gasoline economy—and these two qualities you will find only in THE MAXWELL.

If you want to know what THE MAXWELL will do, ask your neighbor—he has one. If you are in the market for a car, let us demonstrate "a real automobile."
